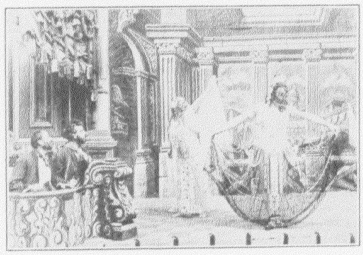
THE SALOON DANCE

LENGTH 635 FT. COPYRIGHTED 1908

Two tramps find a cigar butt and two box tickets for the performance of Salome.



While watching the famous dance an idea strikes them.

"If we had such costumes, couldn't we make the cash register and a barrel of Wuertzberger. The only thing they did not steal was the saloon. They procure some costumes and then sail forth to do the "Saloon dance" as they call it, whereby they take everything from a box of cigars to money!"

"WHEN OUR SHIP COMES IN"

LENGTH 290 FT. COPYRIGHTED 1908

"When our ship comes in" we will do many things which we cannot do now. The wife of a sailor with her little boy goes every day to the wharf to see if her "ship comes in," but not until she nearly lies at death's door does her ship come in, bringing her husband, wealth and happiness.
